		"1 Thing I Will Apply" so that it is easily identified. 6. Do not copy sentences directly from the speaker's presentation. 7. Make the output neat, readable, and visually organized.
Group 2 (BSIT-S-T-4A-T)	Activity 2 Before and After Me	1. Divide the page into two clearly labeled sections: BEFORE THE SEMINAR and AFTER THE SEMINAR. 2. In the Before section, show what you previously knew, believed, or understood about the topic. 3. In the After section, show the new knowledge, realization, attitude, or perspective you gained. 4. Use arrows, drawings, symbols, keywords, short statements, illustrations, etc. to show the changes. 5. Identify at least three changes in your understanding	Understanding of Learning – 10 Depth of Reflection – 15 Creativity & Visual Presentation – 15 Organization & Completeness – 5 Neatness & Presentation – 5 Total: 50	September 21, 2026 or perspective. 6. At the bottom, complete the statement: "Because of this seminar, I now…" 7. Your reflection should be personal and based on your actual seminar experience. 8. Avoid generic statements such as "I learned many things." Give specific examples.

Group 3 (BSIT-S-T-4A-T)	Activity 3 What Would You Do?	1. Create a realistic situation, problem, or challenge related to the seminar topic. 2. Briefly describe the situation and identify the main problem. 3. Explain What would I do? and provide a specific action or solution. 4. Explain Why would I do it? using information or principles learned from the seminar. 5. Explain What could happen next? by identifying the possible result or consequence	Understanding of Situation – 10 Creativity & Originality – 15 Critical Thinking / Application of Learning – 15 Organization & Completeness – 5 Neatness & Presentation – 5 Total: 50	October 12, 2026 of your decision. 6. Present your response creatively using a decision tree, flowchart, mini-comic, storyboard, or illustrated scenario. 7. Your proposed action must demonstrate critical thinking and practical application, not merely recall information. 8. Consider at least one possible consequence of your decision. 9. Complete the activity on one page only.

Group 3 (BSIT-NS-T-4A-T)	Activity 4 My Seminar Poster	1. Create an original advocacy or awareness poster based on an important lesson from the seminar. 2. Develop your own title or slogan that captures the main message. 3. Include a clear main message that can easily be understood by the viewer. 		4. Add at least one major illustration or symbol related to the message. 5. Include a "What I Will Apply" section explaining what you will do, practice, or remember from the seminar. 6. Use creative lettering, illustrations, symbols, borders, and other visual elements. 7. Avoid overcrowding the poster with too much text. 8. At the bottom, write 2–3 sentences explaining the meaning of your poster. 9. The poster must be your own original work and must reflect your understanding of the seminar. 10. Complete the entire poster on one page only.
Group 2 (BSIT-NS-T-4A-T)	Activity 5 Create Your Own Infographic	1. Design an infographic summarizing the most important lessons from the seminar. 		2. Create an original and meaningful title. 3. Include at least 5 key ideas from the seminar. 4. Include at least 2 practical examples showing how the ideas can be applied. 5. Include 1 important reminder, principle, or message. 6. Use visual elements such as boxes, arrows, diagrams, icons, symbols, numbers, and creative lettering, etc. 7. Use keywords and short statements instead of lengthy paragraphs. 8. Arrange the information logically so that the reader can easily follow it. 9. Information must be accurate and based on the seminar. 10. The entire infographic is limited to one page.	Total: 50

Group 1 (BSIT-NS-T-4A-T)	Activity 6 Seminar in a Comic Strip	1. Create a 6-panel comic strip showing your understanding of the seminar. 2. Each panel must present a connected part of the story or learning experience. 3. Include important ideas, situations, realizations, or lessons from the seminar. 4. Use dialogue, captions, thought bubbles, or narration to communicate your ideas. 5. The sixth panel must show how you will apply what you learned. 6. You may use stick figures, simple drawings, symbols, or caricatures or others. 7. The comic must have a	Seminar Content – 10 Creativity & Originality – 15 Storytelling & Message – 15 Completeness & Organization – 5 Neatness & Presentation – 5 Total: 50	November 2, 2026 clear beginning, development, and ending. 8. Avoid copying an existing comic or simply reproducing the seminar slides. 9. Keep the complete comic strip on one page only.
